to quit, Mr B. gave them notice of a rise in their rents, & he may possibly be able to extract from them for the present year; but when I was on the spot in October they said it was impossible for them to continue to pay it, & they were prepared to leave. - They have I understand none of them purchased lime, or sown clover seeds, or shewn any symptoms of an intention to remain. -

I consider the estate however as a highly improvable one. - It would cost but little to put the fences gates &c in repair, & the land has not been ill-treated nor the timber injured, & the buildings might be repaired at an inconsiderable expense - a couple of carpenters employed for a year or half, & a mason occasionally would make a vast difference in their condition. If all these things were done, & the roads in the neighbourhood a little attended to, I am confident the rents might be raised to nearly £1000 a year, without taking the sheep walks into consideration. There have been for many years entirely neglected, but in former days above a thousand sheep were kept upon them, & if any arrangement can be made by which I can again possess an interest in the estate it ~~will~~ ^{will} be my aim to make considerable profit from them again.

So lately as last month Mr Borchett wrote to my Brother to the following effect - "I am happy to inform you that I have arranged to have the Equity of Redemption in the Wick Church Court estate, life interest & policies with the reversions, put up for sale by auction in December in London" - My Brother adds in his letter to me "I do not think he expects to get a bidding except from Mr Dowie".

Should it turn out that it cannot cost many hundred pounds to obtain possession of the property independently of the reversions, which I fear I must abandon all hope of retaining in my family & rely with confidence on the kindness of

has written several letters to Mr M. who does not deign to notice any of them. On this subject my brother says "I think Nevill would do well to step in and give him notice to keep the property in repair, and if some of the claimants on your estate would then ask for an immediate settlement of the

I will only add on this subject at present that my report to him of the state of the property

my dear Sir

I have at length obtained from a Surveyor who has been strongly recommended to me a Valuation of the Michael Church property which appears to have been very carefully made. The Estate is reported to me of the value of £2514. 10 exclusive of the manner of which the quit rents are stated to amount to £14. & £15 per ann and of the Timber respecting which he says nothing is added to the Valuation. There is some Timber on the Estate but not fit to sell to any amount. Some Timber has been cut down for Repairs.

Mr. Danell has recently written to me very much out of Temper at the delay which has occurred in getting the Valuation which it was wholly out of my power to prevent but which I can understand and excuse in his present situation of Distress and uncertainty and I am in no way disposed to waver in my Efforts to procure for him an immediate Income from the property and repayment eventually of the loan made by Messrs. E. & A. & Co. which are guaranteed to be ultimately compensated to the Exchequer.

Yours truly
John Danell Esq.

The History of Ewyas Lacy

Do not think the property can be got out of the hands of Miss Traill and the assignees of Mr Daniell's Estate for a smaller sum than £8300 and I come to this conclusion from an impression that Miss Traill will not part with her securities for a smaller sum than £500. I suspect the assignees would ^{require} ~~expect~~ £500 for their interest and suppose the law charges could not be less than £300. The first Business is to see whether these claims would be accepted and I am not sure the most effectual course would not be to explain to the parties that Mr Daniell's future support mainly if not wholly depends on their taking a considerate & humane view of their claims and the means of satisfying them. If it should be found that the sums I have mentioned (or any others which in the aggregate would not amount to more than £8000) will be accepted I will endeavour to borrow the amount (and I think I should succeed at 4 or 4 1/2 per cent Interest) on condition that I should stand in the capacity of second mortgagee and owner of the reversion upon the following conditions. That the rents of the Estate should during Mr Daniell's life be applied in paying the Interest of the above mentioned sum of £8300.

The History of Ewyas Lacy

and also in maintaining the Insurances for £4000 Then in paying Mr Daniell an Income of £200 per annum. The surplus if any to be applied in keeping down the Interest of the Endow Loan which should at Mr Daniell's death be discharged by the amount to be received from the Insurance Coys. as an assurance that I do not court the Estate I would undertake to convey it to such person as Mr Daniell might name provided the £8300 were paid within an agreed number of years and such security given as you might be satisfied with for the regular payment of the Premiums on the policies and Interest on the Endow Loan. The policies themselves still remaining with me as an ultimate provision for the Debt. If the property ~~will~~ as I expect it will £850 per annum. The charges will be as follow

Interest on £8300 at 4 1/2 %	£ 373 annual policies on £4000	90
Income for Mr Daniell	200
	<hr/> 663
Balance applicable for the reduction of the Interest on the Endow Loan	187 <hr/> £ 850

If the £8300 could be obtained on easier Terms I should have no objection to agree to an equivalent addition to Mr Daniell's

The History of Ewyas Lacy

019/2/4
I shall by this post ^{write} ~~write~~ to him and suggest the possibility of his seeing you to consult together on the feasibility of the foregoing suggestions & if they are approved to determine in the most likely means to accomplish them my persuasion is that you will do better with Mr. Cocker & Mr. Bockett than Mr. Daniell will, and if you think Mr. Bowdler has more interest with either of these gentlemen than you have I am sure he would readily lend his aid To Miss Traill the inducement would be the immediate receipt of £7500 and an effectual separation from an estate which for years has been a trouble to her To the opposite the argument would be that so distinctly expressed in your letter of Aug 1837 ^{strengthened by} ~~strengthened by~~ the feeling which I really believe actuates ~~the creditors~~ ^{them} the creditors to be of service to Mr. Daniell if thereby they do not put their hands in their pockets.

I wish it clearly to be understood in the present stage of the business that I do not absolutely pledge myself to find the sum of £8500 though I fully believe I shall succeed in getting it

If Mr. Daniell calls on you you are at liberty to show him the whole of this letter or any part of it you may think fit & I remain

My dear Sir
I had just today a letter from Mr. Rankin by which I infer that his matter must stand over till Jan next in Town.
