LLANVEYNOC [PRO: IR18/3096]

An appeal meeting was held on May 14th, 1843 (location not given), and had previously been publicised on the church door, the door of the surveyor's office in Hay, and on the door of the New Inn in Longtown where the map and draft of the apportionment were deposited. Again, there were supplementary claims for entitlement to Great Tithes, from Arnold George concerning 2 parcels of land, Benjamin Davis, Samuel Griffiths and Elizabeth Jones, all of which were accepted. After this meeting, but reported with the record of the meeting, Mr CL Moon (acting for Arnold George and other titheowners) wrote to the Assistant Tithe Commissioner claiming entitlement to the Great Tithe of 3 pieces of land, containing about 11 acres, called Cai Kevin which were annexed to a farm called 'Twy Craddock'. George had received compositions for this land for many years, and thought it should be mapped in the township of Llanveynoe. The Assistant Tithe Commissioner noted 'As a consequence the proceedings have been delayed... it was considered a disputed Boundary Question would come', but the report continues '...very recently at Abergavenny I was informed by both parties that it was a mistake and that the land in question did not belong to the township of Llanveynoe'.

LONGTOWN [PRO: IR18/3098]

A meeting was held on April 26th, 1844 at the Monmouth Cap Inn, to hear objections to the intended Apportionment. A notice was placed on the door of Clodock church, and the first Apportionment together with the Draft Apportionment were deposited in the township from April 1st. At the meeting, the valuer, Edward Gisborne, was granted an adjournment after explaining that he had received numerous complaints from landowners about Apportionments for that part of the township called the Borough. After a visit, Gisborne considered that the Draft Apportionment needed revision. The Assistant Tithe Commissioner's report set out the details of issues to be deal with. 1) The owner of Great Tithes in the Township of Longtown was Sir Velters Cornwall, a minor, whose Trustees were Thomas Frankland Lewis and Samuel Peploe. 2) The Borough of Longtown was an area distinct from the township, and the vicar of Clodock was entitled to all tithes, including Great tithes, in the Borough (which contained an estimated 1208 acres) 3) Arnold George was entitled to the Great tithes on land known as The Kevin in the township of Longtown and 4) Lands called The Upper House were exempted from the agreement.

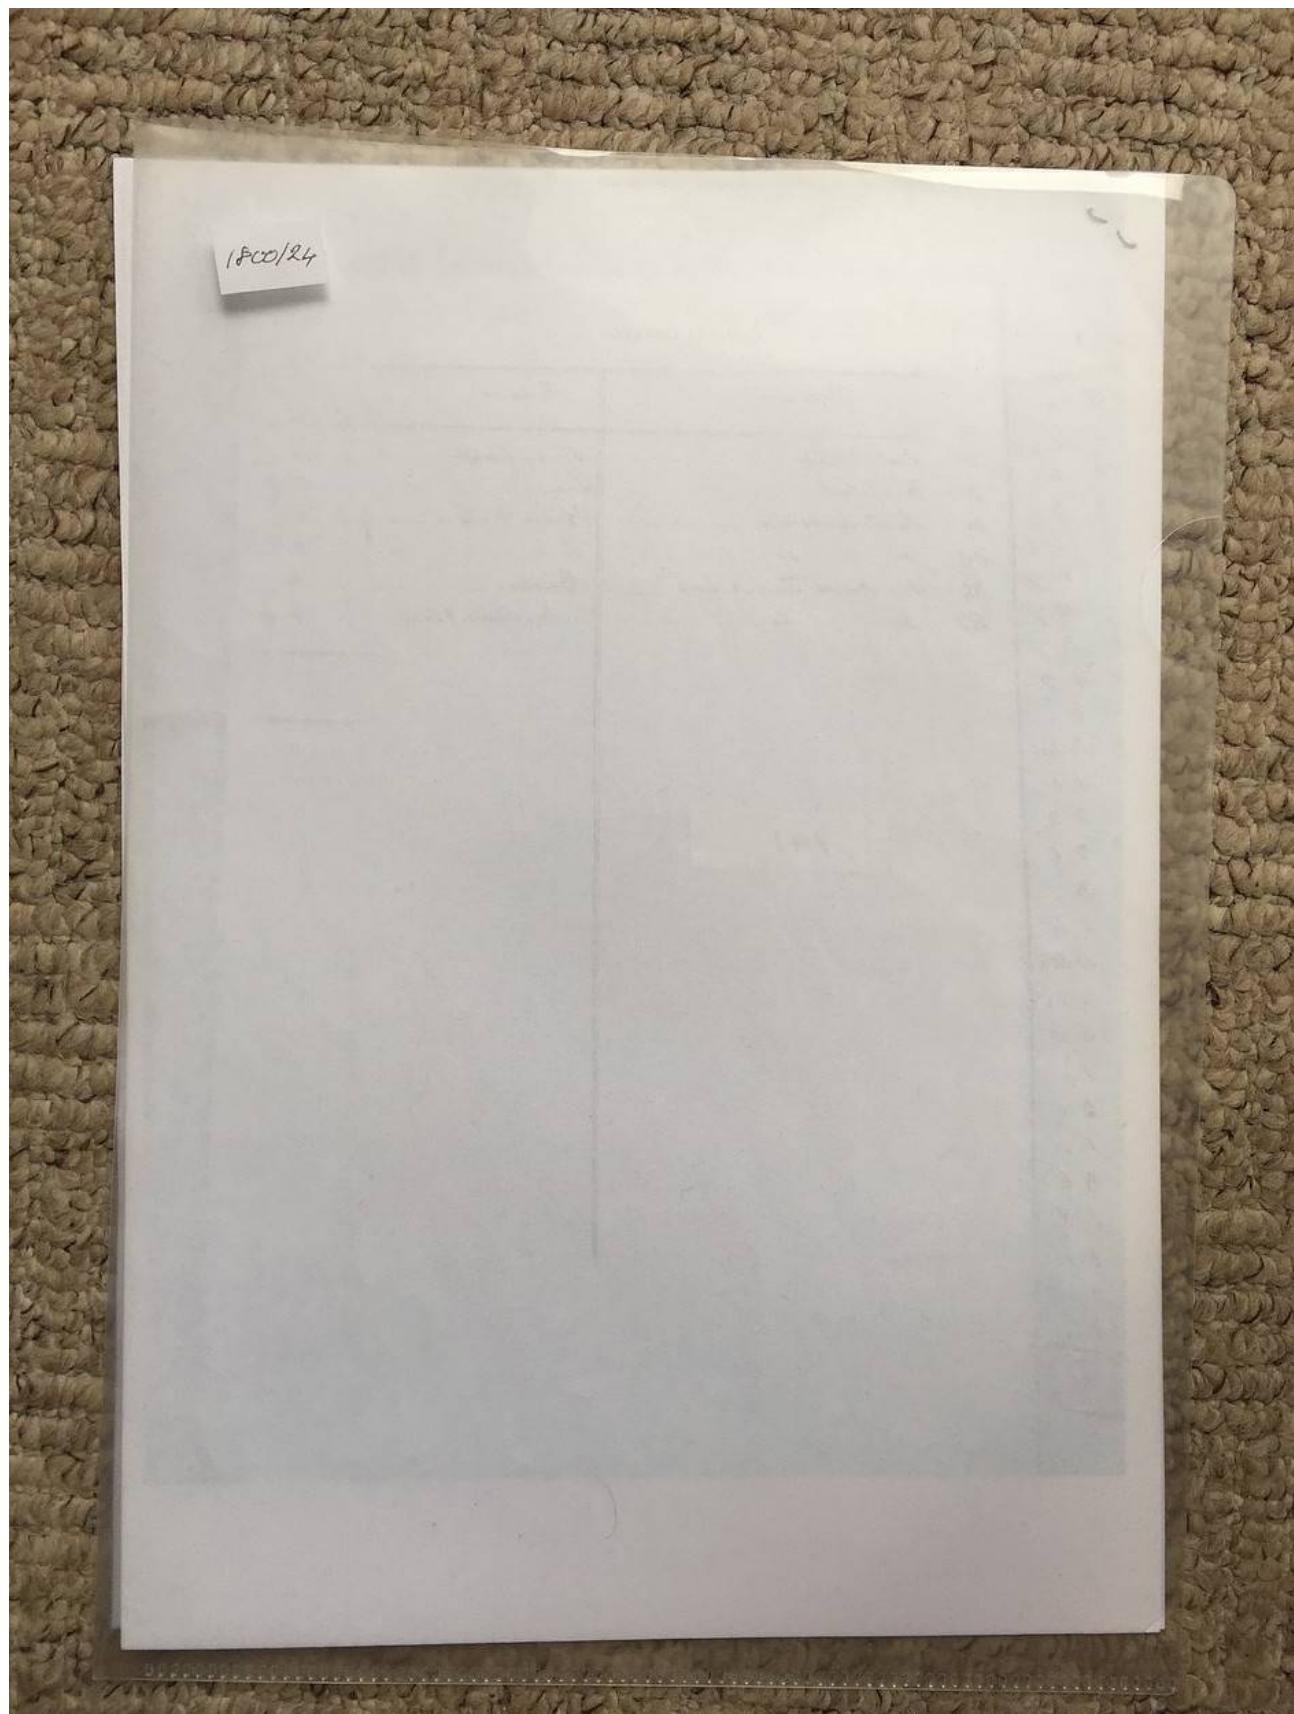

At the next meeting, at the Monmouth Cap Inn on May 30th, 1844, 'the valuer stated he found so much dissatisfaction throughout the Township' that he 'requested an Adjournment to revise the whole'. The second adjournment was granted. Matters were finally settled at a meeting on July 3rd, 1844, again at the Monmouth Cap. Several objections to the level of rent charge were heard. James Jeffries, represented by his agent Henry Harris, objected to the charge on Oldcourt Farm compared with the land of William Adams, but it was noted that 'the Appellant had no evidence and did not attend either of the former meetings, being unwell. The Valuer said he had seen Mr Harris the evening before as well as the morning of the last meeting, and he had stated he would attend'. Consequently this objection was dismissed, as were two others. One of these was from the Rev Charles Probert and the other from the Rev John Hopton (the latter represented by his agent Mr William Croome), who both complained that a rent charge had not been set for each field; the dismissal involved fine legal points about when a 'field apportionment' should be made. It was also recorded that 'No notice had been given by Mr Croome of his intention to appeal' and he 'had not attended either of the previous meetings'. Otherwise, agreement was reached on tithes payable to the Proprietors (TF Lewis and S Peploe for Sir Velters Cornwall) for tithes in the township, to the Vicar for all tithes in the Borough, and to three other tithe owners.

It is distant about 6 miles N.E. of Leominster, 5 S.W. of Tewbury, and 19 N.N.E. of Hereford; is in Wobly hundred, Leominster union, pevry sessional division, county court district, and polling district. The Barrington and Eye station on the Shrewsbury and Hereford joint railway is distant about 4 miles west. The population in 1861 was 445: in 1871, 382; inhabited houses, 75; families or separate occupiers, 80; area of parish, 2,321 acres; annual rental value, £2,268. The Rev. E. A. Utthwatt, the trustees of Lord Bedey, Rev. John Langley, Thomas Edmunds, Esq., Mr. Charles Pusey, are the principal landowners. The soil is clay; subsoil, clay and stone. In the old red sandstone quarries of this parish geologists will find many species of fossils. The chief crops are wheat, beans, hops, and fruit. Middleton is in the diocese and archdeaconry of Hereford and rural deanery of Lominster; living a vicarage with that of Kimbolton annexed; joint value, £250; patron, the Lord Bishop of Hereford; vicar, Rev. Thomas Hutchinson, M.A., of St. John's College, Cambridge, who was instituted in 1841, and resides at Grantafield, near Leominster. The church, dedicated to St. Mary, is of the Norman and Early English styles, and has a large tower (containing three bells) nave, chancel, porch, font, old register chest, &c. There are charities of £6 yearly value. A school for 42 children was erected in 1874 at a cost of £210, adjacent to a cottage which is church property. Moor Abbey, the seat of John George and Thomas Edmunds, Esq., is situated where buildings of some antiquity previously stood. Here are some remains of a moat, which surrounded the original buildings. A chapel of ancient date formerly stood a short distance from here; its remains were taken down about the year 1800. At Old Wood, in the adjoining parish of Tewbury, distant about 2 miles S.W. from that town, and 3 N.E. from Middleton, stands the handsome pile of buildings comprising the church and college of St. Michael—an institution founded by the Rev. Sir Frederick Arthur Gore Ouseley, Bart., M.A., Mus. Doc., at an outlay of nearly £30,000. The ecclesiastical district of St. Michael and all Angels was formed out of his parishes of Tewbury (Worcestershire) and Middleton-on-the-Hill and Layster (Herefordshire), in 1856. Under a recent Act the living is now constituted a vicarage. The church is a magnificent structure of stone, in the Middle Pointed style of architecture, and was consecrated on the 29th of September, 1856. The interior is adorned with beautiful stained glass, especially in the east and west windows, which represents figures of angels, the Crucifixion, and our Lord in glory; Messrs. Hardman & Co., William Pusey, Esq., farmer, Guiting.

Stephen Pusey, Esq., farmer, Little Elm—owner Watkin George, farmer, Old house Pugh James, Bridge Inn, and innkeeper David Thomas, innkeeper and shopkeeper, Middlemire mill Roberta John, farmer, Woolley Hill Sheratt Wm., ironer, Bank Inn & The Firs Williams Eliz., dress, machine invertor Williams Thomas, farrier, Guiting Stephen Pusey, Esq., farmer, Old house Watkin George, carpenter, Village Weston Thomas, parish clerk Yegge, Isambert, farmer, Blonman and Taw Williams Eliz., dress, machine invertor Williams Thomas, farrier, Guiting Birmingham, were the artists. Splendid lamps (for clareted (by Skidmore), after the church of the Holy Sepulchre in Jerusalem, were presented by the Rev. Richard W. Norman; those for the nave were the gift of the Hon. Miss Radout, who also gave the Communion plate, &c. The font is placed in a complete baptistry well of water, and there are only two of its kind in the kingdom. The pulpit, a beautifully carved one, was the gift of Captain Olley. The organ, a remarkable instrument having 64 stops and 4 manuals, with many other novel and effective features, was erected by Messrs. Flight & Son, under the direction of the Rev. Sir Frederick A. Gore Ouseley, Bart., M.A., Mus. Doc., professor of Music in the University of Oxford, and precentor of Hereford cathedral, &c. Full choral services are performed daily matins, 9 a.m.; evensong 6 p.m.; on Sundays and Saint's days—matins, 11 a.m.; evensong 6 p.m.—The college was founded to carry on the musical, classical, and religious education of young gentlemen in the principles of the Church of England, after the manner of Kebley, Brasfield, and other places. There are foundation scholarships attached to this college, for which there is annual election. The pupils are prepared for the upper forms of public schools and for the university. The vicarage of St. Michael's and the wardenships of the college are vested in the person of the founder, the Rev. Sir F. A. Gore Ouseley, Bart., M.A., Mus. Doc., whose father, the Right Hon. Sir Gore Ouseley, was ambassador to the Court of Persia, and well known for his powers as an Oriental linguist and diplomatist.
