PREFACE

This pamphlet is intended as a guide to the types of title deed that existed before the mid-19th-century reforms. It has been a particular pleasure to use examples from the four record offices in which I have worked and learned what I know about deeds. I am grateful to the Coventry City Council for allowing me to publish four documents from their own archives, and to the County Archivists of Essex and West Sussex, and the Archivist of Ipswich and East Suffolk, for permission to print deeds in their respective custodies.

No alteration has been made to the sense of the examples. The use of 'i' and 'j' and 'u' and 'v' has been rationalized, but spelling has been retained (apart from the correction of obvious errors) except when likely to cause confusion. Capital letters have been used for those phrases which were usually written boldly, even if they are not so written in the original. The phrases which identify the type of deed are printed in italics; italics have also been used for editorial notes within the examples.

EXTRACT FROM THE INTRODUCTION TO THE CATALOGUE

LORD ABERGAVENNY MSS (D.1583)

The collection was deposited with the Gwent Record Office on permanent loan in July 1978, by Lord Abergavenny via his agents in Lewes. The records had been for some time with the East Sussex Record Office in Lewes (since 1960).

The Marquess's estates in Monmouthshire were administered from Abergavenny until about 1910 when the office was closed and transferred to Sussex, the family residing for most of the year at Eridge Park, Tunbridge Wells.

This collection includes some material for South Herefordshire and a little for Breconshire but the Marquess preferred to retain the unity of the archive. The Gwent Record Office already held records of the Marquess's family deposited earlier (D.7) and various manorial documents relating to the Lordship of Bergavenny (Man/A/2), both of which included some South Herefordshire items.

Although much of the earlier records were destroyed once their legal and administrative usefulness had ceased, the surviving collection dates from the late seventeenth century (with one late sixteenth century item and a lease of 1628). However, there are also several early nineteenth century extracts from much older records, including results of searches in the public records from 1086, extents, inquisitions and accounts from 1312 and a schedule of leases made from 1414.

This catalogue has been arranged on a geographical and subject basis. Section (1) consists of title deeds for the most part, especially leases, under parish headings and relating to Lord Abergavenny's lands in Monmouthshire. Section (2) is composed of papers other than title deeds concerning the Monmouthshire estates. The fifth section contains papers relating to lands in the two shires of Monmouth and Hereford and which cannot be separated while parts (3) and (4) relate to the lands of Lord Abergavenny in Herefordshire alone. These sections contain many leases dating from the 1680s. The large parish of Clodock, it is to be noted, contains several townships and parts of Mescoed Common (which extends into two other parishes - see Contents).

...The extensive manor of Ewyas Lacy, South Herefordshire, is represented by leases, legal papers et al from the late seventeenth century, as well as various extracts made in the early nineteenth century from medieval records...

Several miscellaneous items, on the Neville Title, ecclesiastical benefices et al, complete the collections.
