Summary of 1773 Indenture held by LD_tg_0005

Sale of D[P]ykes Lands Michaelchurch Escley by Thomas Jenkins to Jane Jenkins

Thomas and Jane could well have been brother and sister. They had a common Aunt Jane. Thomas is given as Yeoman; Jane is a spinster; both of Craswall. [From other sources, Jane probably lived at Trelan.]

* John Jeffries granted a lease in 1740 something to which the sale is subject, possibly to Jane Harries (deceased by 1773) and this may have passed to Thomas Jenkins. [from a Jeffries survey it is known that Jane Harries' lease was for the lives of herself, Thomas Jenkins and an Elizabeth Jenkins spinster.] Thomas' sale to Jane is subject to the covenants in the lease which makes it sound more like a sub-lease though.

Thomas mortgaged the property for £30 in 1766 with a further loan of £33 in 1769.

He sold to Jane for £20 by way of her disclaiming her right to £20 due from him to her pursuant to their aunt's will.

The premises appear to have another name as well as Dykes Lands. This must be an error for Pykes.

They were "sometime since" in the possession of an illegible name, possibly Jane Harries, "late" of Thomas and now a John – probably Griffiths. [He paid rent to Jane Jenkins according to a small rent book held by LD_tg_0005]

[Jane is known to have died by 1796, the date of her Inventory held by LD_tg_0005.]

One of the witnesses to the Indenture is an Allen – [possibly Edward Allen who had acquired the freehold from Walter Jeffries around 1773.]

* The 1773 document says the 1740 lease by John Jeffries Esq
was for the lives of Jane Harries, Thomas & Jane Jenkins
